

BIO for Nancy Clairmont Carr

Leadership transformation expert, Nancy Clairmont Carr, helps entrepreneurs and professionals create the growth and impact they desire in their life and business. She uses intuitive coaching to help leaders embody conscious leadership principles and strategies, providing a template to attain any intention or goal desired.

With over 30 years of executive business and entrepreneurial experience creating growth and profitability in the food, health care and personal care industries, Nancy founded TheJoy-Effect.com. She incorporates business strategy, health optimization and higher consciousness development in her coaching model for leaders who want to exponentially, and permanently, transform their business, life, and health. Nancy also provides strategies to heal the past, remove all success obstacles and unsupportive mindsets, and create an optimal future for all clients.

Nancy shares thought leadership and effective consciousness strategies through speaking, coaching, writing, conferences, and workshops. She also teaches multidimensional energy healing in her energy practitioner workshops and energy healing circles. These programs are useful for clients in their work, for those who want to become an energy practitioner themselves or for personal growth to reach their highest potential. Nancy works with conscious leaders in all industries, guiding them to joy, abundance, and sovereignty, supporting their influence and impact through all relationships.
